Updates on COVID-19 Testing For Healthcare and High-Risk Congregate Settings

On September 2, 2022, the Commissioner of the New Jersey Department of Health revised Executive Directive 21-011, setting forth protocols for COVID-19 testing and vaccination reporting for healthcare and high-risk congregate settings. The revised Executive Directive omits school settings, childcare centers, and other childcare facilities from the list of covered settings. The revised Executive Directive provides that healthcare and high-risk congregate settings should monitor the CDC Community Transmission Levels to determine the appropriate testing frequency for exempted workers.
