Robert Tousignant assists clients with a broad spectrum of commercial real estate transactions, including acquisitions, dispositions, and leasing of office, retail, and multifamily properties. He works closely with developers, investors, and other real estate stakeholders to structure, negotiate, and execute complex agreements, ensuring smooth and efficient transactions for his clients.

Before joining the firm, Robert served as a law clerk to the Honorable Sheila A. Venable, Assignment Judge for the Essex County Superior Court of New Jersey.

Robert earned his Juris Doctor from Rutgers Law School in Newark and holds a Bachelor of Science in Hospitality Management from the University of Central Florida. His background in hospitality operations provides him with a unique perspective on the business and operational aspects of real estate transactions.
