Stuart Pachman is a recognized attorney in corporate law in New Jersey. He focuses on counseling businesses, non-profit corporations and their officers; drafting complex and unusual agreements that successfully memorialize the business deal reached by the parties; structuring transactions; guiding business formations and breakups; and advising executives on day-to-day issues including those involving employees, borrowings, and litigation at both the trial and appellate level. He has also served as a court-appointed officer in business disputes.

Stuart is the author of Title 14A Corporations, which he updates regularly. This book and his Law Review articles have been cited extensively by New Jersey and federal courts as well as courts in other jurisdictions.

In 2015, Stuart received the New Jersey Law Journal's first-ever Lifetime Achievement Award. He was among 25 distinguished attorneys and judges that the Law Journal chose who have "helped to shape the law in New Jersey, whether through their work on the bench, assisting those in need of legal services, building a firm or any other means." He has been named to the "Best Lawyers in America©" list by Best Lawyers®* since 1993.

Stuart has written for the Seton Hall Law Review on "Corporations Evenly Divided: Judicial Remedies for Equal Shareholders," "Accountants and Restrictive Covenants: The Client Commodity" and "Divorce Corporate Style: Dissension, Oppression and Commercial Morality."
